WELCOME TO YOUR 30-DAY CHALLENGE

A simple, structured plan designed to help you build consistency with movement, basic strength, mobility and recovery.

How to use this guide: Complete the planned session at a comfortable effort. If a movement causes sharp or unusual pain, stop and choose an easier variation or rest. The goal is consistency—not perfection.

YOUR DAILY BASICS

■ Drink water regularly throughout the day	■ Get a few minutes of easy movement every day
■ Aim for a regular sleep schedule	■ Include protein-rich foods and vegetables in meals
■ Take short movement breaks if you sit for long periods	■ Record your workout and energy level

EFFORT GUIDE

Easy: You can talk comfortably. Moderate: Breathing is faster but controlled. Hard: Challenging, but technique remains controlled.

BEFORE YOU START

This challenge is a general fitness and habit-building guide, not individualized medical advice. If you have an injury, medical condition, are pregnant/postpartum, or have been advised to limit exercise, get appropriate professional guidance before starting.

Warm-up • 5–7 minutes

■ March in place — 60 seconds	■ Arm circles — 30 seconds each direction
■ Hip circles — 30 seconds	■ Bodyweight good mornings — 10 reps
■ Easy squats to a chair — 8 reps	■ Slow alternating reverse lunges — 6 each side

COOL-DOWN • 5 MINUTES

■ Slow walk or march — 2 minutes	■ Gentle chest/shoulder stretch — 30 seconds
■ Hip-flexor stretch — 30 seconds each side	■ Hamstring stretch — 30 seconds each side
■ Slow breathing — 5 relaxed breaths

30-DAY REFLECTION

■ What improved most:

■ My favorite workout:

■ My biggest consistency win:

■ What I want to continue:

■ My next 30-day goal:

■ A habit I want to protect:

KEEP GOING

The challenge ends on Day 30, but the habit does not have to. Keep the movements you enjoy, gradually increase difficulty when your form is solid, and give recovery the same importance as training.

Safety first: Stop exercise and seek appropriate professional care for severe or concerning symptoms. Never push through sharp pain or loss of control.
